EARLY HISTORY OF HONG KONG

The history of the Hong Kong community is really much longer than the history of the Colony itself. It begins with the arrival of the first Europeans, the Portuguese, on the China coast, in 1513, and in the problems they faced in trying to establish commercial relations with China, where the main current of authoritative opinion was traditionally not interested in foreign trade.

By dint of persistence, the Portuguese were allowed to establish themselves at Macao, in 1557, but when the British and Dutch reached the Far East, in the first decade of the 17th century, they found their way blocked by Chinese refusal to deal with any Europeans other than the Portuguese. Operating from their base at Bantam, in West Java, the East India Company first established a trading factory near Nagasaki, Japan (1613-23), but it proved a commercial failure and was closed down. Beginning with the Weddell expedition in 1635, a number of British attempts were made to open trade with Canton, Amoy, and other Chinese ports; but it was not until 1700 that regular British trade with China began, as a result of a change in Chinese policy, permitting trade with countries that did not acknowledge China as suzerain.

From then on, European trade with China developed steadily, with the British as the principal European nation concerned. From about 1705 the East India Company had a house in Canton, but Europeans were obliged to quit the city during the off-season. Other European Companies and individual traders soon solved this problem by renting houses in Macao, a practice which, though strictly against Portuguese law, was tolerated. In 1773 East India Company followed the example of other nations and established themselves permanently in Macao, the Company's officers proceeding to Canton for each trading season.

Trade with the Chinese was conducted through a Chinese monopoly guild, charging prices far in excess of market values, and itself subject to ruthless extortion by corrupt officials. Two British diplomatic missions, in 1793 and 1816, failed to obtain better treatment of British merchants in China, or a better basis for international trade; and little change might have been expected had not the East India Company's charter been abolished, in India in 1813, and in China in 1833. These changes were the direct result of the acquisition of power in Great Britain by a new class, owing its wealth and influence to the Industrial Revolution, with free trade as its commercial doctrine. The China trade fell firmly into the hands of those independent merchants who, while the East India Company remained in power, had had only limited chances of showing their capability.

The British led the way in demanding that the Chinese Government provide Europeans with a port, where they could be free to trade with whom they wished, under their own laws. Finally, on the long-term issue of proper treatment for foreign traders, and on the more immediate issue of the import of opium into China, war between Great Britain and China broke out (1839-42). In the course of this, the Emperor's negotiator with a British plenipotentiary, Captain Charles Elliot, R.N. provisionally offered the island of Hong Kong as a trading depot. This offer was immediately accepted, and without waiting for its confirmation the British occupied the island in January 1841. The cession of Hong Kong to the British Crown was confirmed by the Treaty of Nanking, 1842. From the start, Hong Kong was declared a free port, open to all comers, and thus it has grown into one of the world's greatest international trading centres.

In 1860, by the Convention of Peking, Kowloon and Stonecutters' Island were ceded to the Crown; and in 1898, by another Convention of Peking, the area known as the New Territories was leased to Great Britain for 99 years, thus bringing the Colony to its present size.

THE COLONY OF HONG KONG

Prior to 1841 there was no recognised name for the island of Hong Kong. The anchorage at Aberdeen was known to sailors as Heung Kong. The Chinese characters representing the name may be translated by "Fragrant Streams" or "Fragrant Harbour." Another possible rendering is "Heung's Harbour," the haunt of a notorious character named Heung.

Kowloon is the anglicised form of the Chinese Kau Lung (nine dragons). This name is derived from the ridge of nine hills which form a rampart along the northern side of the harbour and seem to guard the approach to China.

A book entitled "China" published in 1847, contains a chapter with the following heading: "Hong Kong, its position, prospects, character and utter worthlessness from every point of view to the English." To-day one laughs at that prophecy. However, when it was written there seemed to be reason for such gloomy forboding for the place had an unenviable reputation for rain-storms, typhoons, pirates, prisoners, malaria, dysentery; etc., and in England contempt for the new colony was expressed in the then popular song, "You may go to Hong Kong for me."

To-day this formerly despised possession is one of the world's busiest ports, and for an eastern city is remarkably clean, peaceable and healthy. As one writer remarks: "Hong Kong is a splendid example of what can be accomplished by energy and capital associated with the courage and restraint that go hand-in-hand with British colonisation. Over 100 years of patient administration by 24 Governors and 12 Administrators have brought Hong Kong into the front rank of the world's commerce. This happy achievement is due in no small measure to the harmonious working to two such different peoples as the British and the Chinese."

Hong Kong International Airport, Kai Tak, is situated on the North shore of Kowloon Bay, 3 miles from the centre of Kowloon. Regularly used by 26 international airlines which provide frequent services throughout the Far East and to Europe, North America, Africa, Australia and New Zealand. In addition there are many charter airlines using the airport, from which scheduled domestic helicopter services are also operated.

The airport makes the Colony an important link on the air routes of the Far East, with its 8,350 feet long, 200 feet wide runway built on a promontory of reclaimed land extending South East into Kowloon Bay. It is now being extended to 11,130 feet.

As an international civil airport, Kai Tak, offers full 24 hours operational facilities, with high and low intensity approach, runway and taxiway lighting, and hazard beacons located at strategic points. Special high intensity "strobe lights" are installed at the South East end of the runway promontory and at various points on the approaches to both runways to aid pilots in condition of poor visibility.

The whole system is integrated with long and medium range surveillance radar and precision approach radar, an instrument landing system and various radio navigational beacons.

The terminal building which came into use at the end of 1962 has since been extended to accommodate the increased number of passengers passing through the airport. The freight building has also been extended to provide additional accommodation for the steadily increasing cargo traffic.

In 1970-71, 47,713 aircraft arrived and departed on international flights carrying 2.39 million passengers 3,864 metric tons of mail and 62,264 metric tons of cargo.

The Colony provides a wide range of articles including cotton yarn and piece goods, synthetic yarns and piece goods, shirts, garments, woollen knitwear, embroidered outerwear, permanent press trousers, footwear, steel and wooden furniture, enamelware and all types of metalware, plastic articles including plastic footwears and foliage, all types of toys and household utensils, vacuum flasks, moulds, machines, AM and FM transistor radios, TV sets, various types of electronic components including T.V. tuners, capacitors, transistors, integrated circuits, computer memory cores, watches and clocks, optical equipment including binoculars and cameras, wigs including synthetic wigs, lacquers, varnishes and paints, rattan articles, iron/steel bars and rounds, cement and food stuffs (including beverages), electrical appliances including fans and air-conditioners.

The climate is sub-tropical and monsoonal. Winter is cool and dry; summer hot and humid. The mean daily temperature ranges from 15°C in February to 28°C in July. The average annual rainfall is 85 inches, three quarters falling between May and September.

Few places can show such a variety of games and recreations. Golf, tennis and yachting are popular all the year round; football (rugby and association), cricket and hockey are played in the winter months; in the summer lawn bowls, lawn tennis and baseball are played, and perfect bathing is enjoyed. The Jockey Club hold a three-day annual meeting every February in addition to the many other race meetings throughout the year.

In Hong Kong East meets West. The latest from London, Paris and New York can be found cheek by jowl, with all the alluring work of the Orient. If one wishes to travel in town one may do so by motorcar, taxi, bus, tram and rickshaw, while in the harbour motorboats, ferries, launches and sampans are at one's disposal.

The provision of an adequate water supply has always posed difficulties because Hong Kong has no large rivers or underground supplies. In 1963, a 5,390 million gallon reservoir at Shek Pik on Lantau Island was brought into use. Water from it is pumped to Hong Kong Island along eight miles of submarine pipeline. The Plover Cove reservoir, largest and costliest project ever undertaken by the Hong Kong Government, was brought into supply in 1967. Created by dredging, damming and draining an inlet of Tolo Channel, on the east coast of the New Territories, it has a storage capacity of 37,000 million gallons. The colony also purchases 15,000 million gallons of water annually, for a period of nine months from 1st October to 30th June, by agreement with the People's Council of Kwangtung Province. The agreement provides for additional supplies by negotiation between the two parties.

Hong Kong boasts two universities, secondary and primary schools, numerous places of worship, up-to-date hospitals, modern cinema houses, and the finest golf course (at Fanling, in the New Territories) in the Far East.

Hong Kong has a large and active press. At September, 1971 277 publications of various kinds were listed by the Registrar of Newspapers. Seventy-six of these were newspapers. The remainder were mainly magazines.

Government-owned Radio Hong Kong broadcasts two main services, one in English and the other in four Chinese dialects. Both services are on the air 17 hours a day.

Rediffusion (Hong Kong) Ltd. operates wired sound and television services, and in November 1967 Hong Kong Television Broadcasts Ltd. made technical history as the first television station in the world to commence its transmissions in both colour and black and white.

Commercial Radio went on the air in August, 1959, broadcasting 17 hours a day in English and Cantonese.

HONG KONG'S STORM WARNING SIGNALS

Local Storm Warning Signals are displayed at various signal stations to give general indications of the winds expected anywhere near sea level in Hong Kong. LISTEN TO RADIO BULLETINS for all available information on the progress of the tropical cyclone and details of weather conditions. When any of the local storm signals numbers 5 to 10 is displayed, these bulletins are broadcast at two minutes to and half past every hour. If you do not have a radio, the Information Centre at the Headquarters of the Secretariat for Home Affairs (Telephone H-45381) can give you the latest report. PLEASE do not telephone the Royal Observatory.

DO YOU KNOW THESE TERMS USED IN BROADCAST WARNING BULLETINS?

Tropical cyclones are classified into these four categories according to the maximum sustained winds within their circulations:

A TROPICAL DEPRESSION has maximum sustained winds of less than 34 knots and at this stage the centre is often not very clearly defined and cannot always be fixed precisely.

A TROPICAL STORM has maximum sustained winds in the range 34-47 knots.

A SEVERE TROPICAL STORM has maximum sustained winds in the range 48-63 knots.

A TYPHOON has maximum sustained winds of 64 knots or more.

The EYE at the centre of a developed tropical cyclone is a relatively calm and lightly clouded area that may be from 5 to over 50 miles in diameter. The strongest winds in a tropical cyclone blow in a tight band round the outside edge of the eye.

Wind speed and the speed of movement of a tropical cyclone are measured in knots. One KNOT is one nautical mile per hour and is a little over half a metre per second.

The direction from which the wind is blowing, the direction towards which a tropical cyclone is moving and the bearing of its centre from Hong Kong are each given to the nearest point of a 16-point compass bearing. Thus the actual bearing will be within 11.25° of the reported value. For example, a typhoon moving on any heading between 255° and 281° is said to be "moving west", although due west is 270° from true north.

SIGNAL		DISPLAY		MEANING of the signal	What will happen and what you should do
		Symbol during day	Lights at night
1	STANDBY ONLY		WHITE WHITE	A TROPICAL CYCLONE IS CENTRED WITHIN 100 NAUTICAL MILES OF HONG KONG AND MAY BRING DESTRUCTIVE WINDS IN THE COLONY.	THIS IS A STANDBY SIGNAL INDICATING THAT THE TROPICAL CYCLONE IS A POTENTIAL THREAT TO HONG KONG. LISTEN TO YOUR RADIO FOR WARNINGS AND IF NECESSARY REMAIN ON CALL.
3	STRONG WIND		GREEN WHITE GREEN	STRONG WIND EXPECTED, WITH A SUSPECTED WIND SPEED OF 23-31 KNOTS AND GUSTS WHICH MAY REACH 34 KNOTS. The bearing of this signal normally indicates about 12 hours warning of a strong wind in Victoria Harbour.	Secure hearings, scaffolding, temporary structures and loose objects, particularly on balconies and roof tops. Clear gutters and drains. If you are on a boat, be prepared to leave. If you are in a port normally leave for typhoon anchorage or hoist when the wind becomes strong. It may affect some ferry services, particularly if the piers are exposed to the wind.
5	NW' LY GALE OR STORM		WHITE GREEN GREEN	GALE OR STORM EXPECTED, WITH A WIND SPEED OF 34-63 KNOTS AND GUSTS WHICH MAY EXCEED 64 KNOTS.	All schools and few courts close and ferries will probably stop running at short notice. Windows and doors should be bolted and shutters closed. If you are in a port, be prepared to leave. If possible, it is extremely dangerous to be out at sea. If you are in a boat, hoisting of No. 3 or No. 10 signal as the latter are signals of great urgency. As the winds increase, stay indoors to avoid flying roofs but if you must go out keep well clear of overhead wires and loadings.
6	SW' LY GALE OR STORM		GREEN WHITE WHITE	GALE OR STORM EXPECTED, WITH A WIND SPEED OF 34-63 KNOTS AND GUSTS WHICH MAY EXCEED 64 KNOTS.
7	NE' LY GALE OR STORM		GREEN GREEN WHITE	These four signals are equally significant with regard to wind speed. Normally, the first of them issued about 12 hours before the gale affects Victoria Harbour.
8	SE' LY GALE OR STORM		WHITE WHITE GREEN
9	INCREASING GALE OR STORM		GREEN GREEN GREEN	GALE OR STORM EXPECTED TO INCREASE SIGNIFICANTLY IN STRENGTH, WITH WIND SPEEDS WHICH WILL REACH 48-63 KNOTS WITHIN THREE HOURS AT THIS signal being hoisted.	These signals imply that the centre of a severe tropical storm or a typhoon will come close to the Colony. If the eye passes over there will be lull lasting from a few minutes to some hours but followed by a sudden resumption of destructive winds from a different direction. In the case of a typhoon, the winds will be particularly in narrow lanes. If this happens near the time of normal high tide then low lying areas may have to be evacuated very quickly. Heavy rain may cause flooding, dangerous postfalls and mudslides.
10	HURRICANE		RED RED RED	HURRICANE FORCE WIND EXPECTED, WITH SUSTAINED SPEED REACHING UNUSUAL WIND SPEEDS OF 64 KNOTS AND WITH GUSTS THAT MAY EXCEED 120 KNOTS. This signal is hoisted as soon as there are indications that the approaching wind speed anywhere near sea level in Hong Kong is likely to exceed 83 knots.

Do not confuse the above storm warning signals with the strong monsoon signal, a black ball. The lights used at night for this signal are: white, green, white.

LEASED CIRCUITS

These are telegraph or speech circuits with places overseas provided for the exclusive use of a customer on a rental basis.

Leased telegraph circuits use subscribers' equipment similar to, although somewhat more elaborate than, that used for telex. The operating procedure is comparable except that of course the connection to the distant office is permanent (or on an agreed schedule basis).

Further information, including charges, can be obtained on application to Cable & Wireless, Commercial Department.

ABRIDGED RULES

1. ORDINARY TELEGRAMS

Rates as shown subject to a minimum charge as for 7 words.

The text of an ordinary telegram may be written in Plain Language or in Secret Language or in a mixture of both.

PLAIN LANGUAGE. Telegrams written entirely in Plain Language are counted at the rate of 15 letters to the word. Commercial marks, exchange quotations, etc. are counted at the rate of 5 characters to the word.

SECRET LANGUAGE. Telegrams written entirely in Secret Language are counted at the rate of 5 letters or characters to the word.

MIXED LANGUAGE. Telegrams written in a mixture of Plain and Secret Languages are governed by the rules of counting for Plain and Secret Language above.

2. URGENT TELEGRAMS

Priority of transmission and of delivery may be obtained to places where urgent telegrams are admitted by writing before the address the paid service instruction —Urgent—, which is counted and charged for as one word. The rate for urgent telegrams is double ordinary rate, with a minimum charge as for 7 words.

3. LETTER TELEGRAMS (LT)

Rates as shown subject to a minimum charge as for 22 words.

The text of a letter telegram must be written in Plain Language. Letter telegrams must bear before the address the paid service instruction —LT— which is counted and charged for as one word. The delivery of letter telegrams shall take place after 0800 o'clock local time, on the morning after the date of deposit.

4. SOCIAL TELEGRAMS (GLT)

Admitted within the British Commonwealth only.

Rates as shown subject to a minimum charge as for 10 words.

The text of a social telegram must be written in Plain Language and be of a social nature.

Social telegrams must bear before the address the service instruction —GLT— which is not charged for but is counted as one word in the number of words shown in the preamble.

Social telegrams may be addressed to a registered address.

5. PRESS TELEGRAMS

Press telegrams may be sent at reduced rates.

They may contain only material for publication, radio sound or television broadcasting. They must not contain any passage, announcement or communication having the character of private correspondence, nor any advertisement.

Comments relative to the publication or broadcasting of the telegram are admitted, but the number of words thus added shall not exceed 10 per cent of the total number of chargeable words in the text, and shall not exceed 20 words.

The minimum charge for a Press telegram is as for 14 words.

6. RADIOTELEGRAMS

Telegrams exchanged with ships at sea through Radiotelegraph Coast Stations are subject to the normal telegraph charges to the country in which the coast station is situated, increased by the respective coast and ship charges for the radio transmission. Letter Telegrams are not admitted.

7. PREPAID REPLIES

The sender of a telegram may prepay a reply from his correspondent in those countries which admit this facility, by writing before the address the paid service instruction —Reply Paid— or —RP— followed by the amount prepaid for the reply. This instruction —RPx— is counted and charged for as one word.

The voucher can only be used to pay for a telegram within a period of three months following the date of its issue.

8. REPEATED OR COLLATED TELEGRAMS

Repetition of a telegram may be obtained on payment of an additional charge equal to one half of the full ordinary rate to the same destination and by inserting before the address the paid service instruction —TC— which is counted and charged for as one word.

9. MULTIPLE-ADDRESS TELEGRAMS

The addresses of a telegram to be sent to several addresses in the same town or to one and the same addressee at different addresses in the same town, should be prefaced by the indication —TM— followed by the number of addresses, for example, —TM4—. The telegram, including the addresses, is charged for as a single telegram, but a copy is prepared for delivery to each address. The copying fee is as follows:—

Destinations	Per copy not exceeding 50 chargeable words	Each Additional 50 words or part thereof
British Commonwealth . . .	$1.80	$0.90
China	1.00	0.50
Other countries	1.80	0.90

This service is not available for Commonwealth Social Telegrams (GLT).

10. DE LUXE TELEGRAMS (LX)

Senders of telegrams to certain countries indicated in this tariff can, if they wish, have their messages delivered on a special decorated form.

Delivery on a “de luxe” form in any of the countries specified is secured by writing the paid service indication —LX— in front of the address. The indication —LX— is chargeable as one word and in addition to the normal charges for the telegram a supplementary fee of $0.60 is payable. In multiple address telegrams, the indication must be written before each separate address, and the supplementary fee collected in respect of each address. The service is available for all classes of public telegrams.

DEFINITION OF PLAIN LANGUAGE

1. Plain Language is that which presents an intelligible meaning in one or more of the languages admitted for international telegraph correspondence, each word and each expression having the meaning normally assigned to it in the language to which it belongs.

2. By telegrams in plain language are meant those of which the text and signature are wholly in plain language. The character of a telegram in plain language is not changed by the presence of:—

- (a) Numbers written in letters or figures, groups composed either of letters or of figures, or of figures and signs, provided that these numbers, groups and signs have no secret meaning;
- (b) Proper names, arbitrary or abbreviated addresses;
- (c) Abbreviated denominations of international or national organizations, including business undertakings, in the form of initial letters combined as one group;

- (d) Commercial marks, trade marks, designations of goods, arbitrary technical terms used to denote machines or parts of machines, reference numbers or indications and other expressions of the same kind, provided that these marks, designations, technical terms, reference numbers or indications and expressions are shown in a catalogue available to the public, or in a price list, invoice, bill of lading or similar document;
- (e) Groups denoting house numbers, registration numbers or letters of motor vehicles, designations of ships, aircraft or railway trains as well as flight and train numbers; groups clearly representing money, ordinal numbers, indications of time of day; and groups representing exchange or market quotations, or scientific formulae;
- (f) Abbreviated expressions in current use in ordinary or commercial correspondence, such as fob, cif, caf, svp, or any similar expression;
- (g) A single check word or check number placed at the beginning of the text and not exceeding five letters or five figures in length.

3. Languages admitted in plain language telegrams are those used in the country of origin and of destination. Additionally, most modern languages are also admitted. The text and signature of telegrams originating in or destined for China may be expressed wholly by means of groups of four figures taken from the official telegraph dictionary of the Chinese Administration.

DEFINITION OF SECRET LANGUAGE

- 1. Secret Language is formed of:—
 - (a) Artificial words composed exclusively of letters; such words must not exceed five letters in length;
 - (b) Arabic figures, or groups of Arabic figures having a secret meaning;
 - (c) Real words belonging to one or more of the languages admitted for telegraph correspondence in plain language which are not used with the meaning normally assigned to them in the language to which they belong and consequently do not form intelligible phrases;
 - (d) Other words or expressions not fulfilling the conditions laid down for plain language;
 - (e) A mixture of the words and expressions mentioned in a. b. c. and d.
- 2. The mixture within a single group of any combination of letters, figures or signs which has a secret meaning shall not be permitted.
- 3. By secret language telegrams are meant those containing in their text or signature one or more words in secret language.

HONG KONG SUMMER TIME:

Clocks are advanced one hour on the first Sunday after 15th April and retarded one hour on the first Sunday after 15th October.

AIR MAIL AND AIR PARCEL SERVICES FROM HONG KONG

General Information

In general the limits of weight and dimensions and other conditions (except postage rates) prescribed for surface mails, apply also to articles to be sent by air. Particulars are available at any Post Office of those categories of articles which are prohibited transmission owing to their dangerous nature.

Countries are divided into four zones according to distance for the purpose of charging air postage on letter mail. The air postage rates for letter mails to the four zones are shown in the table below:

Zones	Letters (each ½ oz.)	Postcards (each) Second Class Mail (each ½ oz.)
1	50 ¢	25 ¢
2	$1.30	65 ¢
3	$2.00	$1.00
4	$2.50	$1.25

A BLUE AIR MAIL LABEL, obtainable free at any post office, should be affixed to all air mail correspondence at the top left hand corner on the address side. Or you may write the words BY AIR MAIL boldly in the same place, but the label is more likely to catch the sorter's eye.

AEROGRAMMES (Air Letter forms) may be sent to all countries at a uniform rate of 50 cents. Enclosures are not permitted. You may get the special forms at Post Offices or use privately-manufactured forms which bear a statement that they have been approved by the Postmaster-General with the approval number. Unapproved forms will be treated as ordinary air mail letters.

SECOND CLASS AIR MAIL. Printed papers, Small Packets, Blind literature, etc., sent by air must conform to the regulations for such articles apart from those relating to weight steps, and must be clearly marked in the upper left hand corner of the cover for the service intended, "Printed Papers", "Small Packets", etc. Such items must not be sealed against inspection and must not contain anything in the nature of a current letter.

INSURED LETTERS AND BOXES may be sent by air to the countries indicated, subject to the same regulations as insured letters and boxes sent by surface. The normal insurance and registration fees are payable in addition to the letter air postage rate in the case of airmail letters, and in addition to the second class air postage rate in the case of insured boxes. Insured boxes are subject to the minimum charge of $1.50 plus the insurance and registration fees.

AIR PARCELS may be sent by air to the countries shown, subject to the general regulations applicable to surface parcels as regards weight limitations, customs declarations, despatch notes, compensations, etc. Insured parcels are accepted for the countries indicated following on pages. A blue air mail label must be affixed to the address side of the parcel and to the despatch note.

EXPRESS service is available for airmails and air parcels to the United Kingdom only.

CORRECT POSTAGE ESSENTIAL. Please make sure that the correct postage is paid: underpaid airmail items may be sent by surface route and suffer delay.

(The services and charges set out below are liable to change. Up-to-date information may be obtained at all post offices).

Come close and listen to the sound of modern Asia.

It's a sound as restless as the sea itself. Exciting. It's the thunder of the pile-driver. The cry of the street hawker. The rattle of the abacus. The ever increasing sound of Asian enterprise. Like to sell to it? Buy from it?

It's competitive.

To make a profit you need good advice. Advice from someone who's part of this tough and restless world.

For 53 years the Bank of East Asia has been doing just that. Giving valuable advice on importing and exporting, marketing, business introductions, financing, exchange and investment — all you'd expect from a world class bank. Economic advice and help in Asia.

We're modern. We have the most advanced computer system in Asia. But we have not lost that tradition of courtesy and friendliness that helped us become what we are today.

Get to know the Bank that knows Asia best.
